CALL FOR ENTRIES
5th edition of the FIFAC
From 10 to 14 October 2023

Film registrations are open for the 2023 edition of the FIFAC. International festival dedicated to the best in creative documentary and digital content, the FIFAC will be held in Saint-Laurent du Maroni (French Guiana) from 10 to 14 October 2023 and online on the festival website.

This October, during 5 days, the festival will bring together directors, producers, broadcasters, the general public and schoolchildren around a selection of works from the Amazon-Caribbean area. On the agenda: original films, meetings, screenings, debates, master classes, professional events and festive moments...

The competition is open to films produced from 1 January 2022 onwards, which concern the regions of Guyana, Amazonia and the Caribbean and which deal with a wide range of themes: society, economy, ethnology, animals, history, culture and heritage.

The festival opens its selection to two types of production:

Creative documentaries (short and feature films) and digital documentary creations, intended for viewing on tablet, phone or computer: web docs, web series (interactive experiences, animations, works in virtual reality or 360° , experimental montages).

The films selected for competition will compete for 6 prizes:

Grand Prix FIFAC-France Télévisions / Jury Prize / Best Short Film Prize / High School Prize / Best Digital Content Prize / Audience Prize.

Registration opens on 14 February and closes on 30 May 2023 on the following platforms:

www.filmfreeway.com/FIFAC - www.docfilmdepot.com

Submit your short and long format documentaries, any screen, any script.

The festival is part of France Télévisions' policy of supporting documentary festivals in overseas France. The ambition is to promote documentary creation in the region and to encourage local production.
